

Debbie Benoist holds a Master of Music in Music Literature from the University of Houston Moores School of Music, and a Bachelor of Music in Music Theory "With Distinction" from the University of Missouri-Kansas City Conservatory of Music.

Presently, Ms. Benoist teaches Music Theory, Ear Training, Sight Singing, Music Appreciation, American Music Rock, and Private Piano at Alvin Community College, and taught at San Jacinto College South from 2003-2014. She is also the Administrator of the Alvin Community College Music Academy.

Debbie is an active accompanist in church, college choirs, musicals, public school choirs, solo contests, and most recently for the Houston Boy Choir. While at San Jac South, she also accompanied the college community choir that sang at Carnegie Hall in May 2011. In addition, she is an active percussionist and former Principal Timpanist for the Clear Lake Symphony, UMKC Civic Orchestra, All-State Symphony in San Antonio at the TMEA Convention, the All-American Youth Honor Band and Chorus in Madrid, Spain, and occasionally the Bay Area Youth Symphony.